

U. S. MAY INTERVENE IN LANAI DEAL

BUT DE BOLT SIDESTEPPE THE JURISDICTION ISSUE

HELD IN EFFECT THAT THERE WAS NO OCCASION FOR TRYING TO RESTRAIN THE GOVERNOR UNTIL AFTER THE LAND COMMISSIONER HAD TAKEN THE INITIATIVE IN MAKING THE EXCHANGE OF GOVERNMENT LANDS.

Judge De Bolt today dissolved the temporary injunction obtained by L. L. McCandless against Governor Carter in the Lanai land deal. The court held in effect, that not until Land Commissioner Pratt had taken the initiative to make the proposed exchange of government lands and the Governor was called upon to exercise the prerogative of approving the sale there was no cause upon which to secure any restraining order. The court did not decide the question argued by counsel for the governor, that the latter was not subject to the process of the court which had no jurisdiction in the case.

The argument over the dissolution of the injunction restraining Governor Carter from approving the proposed exchange of government lands on Lanai, came up before Judge De Bolt this morning. CARTER TO WRITE HAWAII'S HISTORY

SUPERINTENDENT OF FOREIGN MISSIONS BARTON SEURES THE GOVERNOR'S PROMISE TO BECOME THE AUTHOR OF EXTENSIVE ARTICLE ON EARLY MISSIONARY WORK AND ITS RESULTS IN THESE ISLANDS—PRAISE FOR SCUDDER.

In Governor Carter the Reverend James L. Barton, D.D., Superintendent of Missions for the American Board of Commissioners of Foreign Missions, en route to the heart of the Chinese Empire, found during his brief stay here a man after his own heart, for he discovered that the governor has for a long time been collecting many interesting and valuable facts in regard to the early missionary work in these islands.

"Governor Carter has promised to write an extensive article," said Doctor Barton aboard the Mongolia this forenoon to a Star reporter. "It will prove of immense interest, for the governor has a vast fund of information on the subject of early missionary work here and takes a keen interest in the study of the beginning of civilization in Hawaii. He has been collecting data for some time. His article will appear in the magazine we publish back in Boston."

"I was delighted to meet the Governor and he told me that he thought that the condition of these islands today was very largely due to the noble work of the early missionaries. He talked most entertainingly of education here, of the good system of public schools and of the ability of the people here to govern themselves. This morning the governor took me out riding in his automobile. We wanted to go to the Fall but the weather was not propitious."

Dr. Barton is traveling to China in the S. S. Mongolia which arrived here yesterday afternoon from the Coast. At noon today, promptly, the Mongolia left the Hackfeld wharf for the Orient. About an hour before her departure Dr. Barton went aboard. He was accompanied by Doremus Scudder, Dr. Brigham and Dr. Gulick. On the deck he was met by a bevy of ladies, one of whom enthusiastically declared: "I should have wept many, many salty tears if I had missed the pleasure of meeting you, doctor!" Others were as much glad to see him apparently. Bishop Restarick later arrived and he and Dr. Barton shook hands cordially. Dr. Barton remarking that he believed he had had the pleasure of meeting Bishop Restarick in Boston. Doremus Scudder then introduced the missionary to the Chinese Consul. "What part of China is yours?" inquired Dr. Barton. "Canton," replied the Consul. "I am going to your country," said Dr. Barton. The Consul expressed pleasure.

Breckons Has Asked For Cable Instructions

LOCAL DISTRICT ATTORNEY HAS WRITTEN TO THE DEPARTMENT OF JUSTICE ABOUT THE LANAI EXCHANGE DEAL AND WANTS TO BE ADVISED IMMEDIATELY AS TO WHETHER HE SHALL JUMP IN.

There is a possibility that the U. S. officials may take a hand in the Lanai exchange of government land. U. S. District Attorney Breckons wrote to the Department of Justice at Washington by the S. S. Doric last week acquainting the officials with the status of the proposed Lanai deal. He asked for cable instructions as to whether he should take any steps to protect any interest the United States government might have in the land. The Doric reached San Francisco today and the letter from Breckons ought to reach Washington by next Wednesday or Thursday. He is likely to be advised about the matter by the end of next week or the week following. Breckons may receive instructions to take steps to prevent the proposed exchange.

SENSATIONAL CHARGES MADE BY PINKHAM

IN A LETTER TO GOVERNOR CARTER, THE HEAD OF THE BOARD OF HEALTH SAYS THAT CERTAIN JAPANESE CANDIDATES FOR LICENSES TO PRACTICE MEDICINE ATTEMPTED TO INFLUENCE EXAMINERS.

Sensational charges are made by President Pinkham against certain Japanese candidates for licenses to practice medicine. He charges them with all but open attempt at bribery of the medical examiners. The charges have been made by Pinkham in a letter which he has addressed to Governor Carter.

The letter is as follows:
Hon. Geo. R. Carter, Governor Territory of Hawaii.

Dear Sir:—I wish to place myself on record in the matter of the admission of Japanese physicians to the practice of medicine in the Territory of Hawaii. There are many things of which we are convinced, legal proof of which it would be difficult to produce in court. I have studied the situation throughout the Territory for a long time.

There are Japanese physicians whose skill, ethics and cultivation are such they always received the highest recognition and most of these share the sentiment of our first-class physicians, that we can not too carefully guard our licenses to practice medicine and surgery. There is no question but that such latitude was given and confidence reposed in former examinations in the Japanese language, that there was opportunity for outside collusion, prompting and assistance, and that such practice

WILLIAM HAYWOOD IS DEAD

FORMER CONSUL GENERAL TO HAWAII AND LATER CONSUL GENERAL TO KOREA PASSES AWAY.

FORT BAYARD, N. M., December 18.—William Haywood, former Consul-General at Seoul, Korea, died today at the Government sanatorium of pulmonary tuberculosis. He came here one month ago, but his condition was hopeless. Mrs. Haywood arrived in time to be present at his death and returned to Washington today. The remains will follow later.

William Haywood entered the State Department as a clerk when a young man. He attracted the favorable notice of James G. Blaine, and as long as the latter lived was his protégé. Through Blaine's influence he was appointed Consul General to Hawaii about 1896 or 97, and he retained that lucrative office until the organization of the Territory. He then became Collector of Internal Revenue, and a few months later was selected as the representative at Washington of the Commercial bodies of Honolulu. He resigned this position a little more than a year ago. A few months ago he was appointed Consul General at Seoul. He went to his post but his health did not permit him to remain there and he went to New Mexico seeking health. His wife was Miss Wilson, the daughter of the late Jere Wilson, one of the most prominent lawyers in the United States. They have several children.
